

WE CHANGE LIVES

ROCKY WOODLAND

Rocky Woodland always planned on joining the military after high school, but found out having asthma would disqualify her. Faced with finding a new career path, she discovered the Welding Program at Davis Technical College and received Davis Tech Foundation scholarships.

Without scholarships, Rocky says she is not sure if she would have been able to continue in the program. Besides a tuition scholarship, she received funds allowing her to buy her own welding jacket, gloves, and a helmet to replace ones that were too large and made welding more difficult. Rocky is grateful for those gifts as well as the support from the instructors and staff at Davis Tech. Rocky plans to travel across the country as a structural welder when she graduates.

Hughes General Contractors has been an important partner to Davis Technical College for many years. This past year, their support made a difference in multiple ways. Hughes donated a nonoperating skid-steer to our Diesel Technology Program. They also donated all of the parts to repair it. Not only is this a useful student project, once repaired it will be a training resource for students in the new Heavy Duty Equipment Operator Training Program.

Hughes also donated time and materials in support of the college’s first Build-To-Success Summer Camp. Their team spent hours collaborating on curriculum, mentoring students, and providing a BBQ for students and families to celebrate their success.

Additionally, Hughes was a silver sponsor at our annual Foundation Golf Tournament, which supports student scholarships and program needs.

We couldn’t have achieved so much this year without the skills and efforts of committed partners such as Hughes General Contractors.

BUILD-TO-SUCCESS

This summer, students collaborated with local companies to build a playhouse that included a lofted bed, solar panels, and drinking fountain. This house was auctioned off at the annual foundation golf tournament, raising $3,500 for student scholarships.
