2.1.1. Employees shall wear appropriate attire and maintain a personal appearance compatible with the culture and objectives of the College. The College's goals and values reflect the importance of presenting a positive image of competence and professionalism to our customers, the individuals we serve, and the public. The appearance of employees shall create an image and set an example for students and other clients as to what is generally required and desired by the employers we serve.

2.1.2. Employees clothing and appearance must be appropriate for the professional standards of their position. Employees appearance shall not be disruptive, distracting, or dangerous, and clothing must be clean and neat at all times. These are the minimum standards required throughout the College; however, individual departments may establish stricter guidelines as necessary.

2.1.3. Employees who work in unique professions or perform duties that necessitate specific dress may wear uniforms or other clothing which is generally accepted as standard attire for those duties. Examples are nurses and other medical professionals, dental professionals, cosmetologists, cooks, shop workers, security guards, etc. These personnel are responsible for keeping their uniforms clean, neat, and in acceptable condition.

2.1.6. Exceptions to this policy may be authorized by supervisors and the College administration for individual circumstances, or on days when special events or activities are taking place. The College is committed to ensuring that this personal appearance policy is not discriminatory and is applied consistently and equally to all genders, and will accommodate where possible, exceptions based upon disability, religious, ethnic, health or safety reasons.

2.2. Children at Work - Employees shall not bring their children to work with them unless authorized in advance by their supervisor.
